Call About RUSH Shipping

Ordering Guns - New gun orders can only be shipped to a Federal Firearms Licensed dealer (FFL). You can place the order directly with us and pay us directly, but it has to be shipped to an FFL. If your dealer would prefer to place the order and pay directly, you can still talk to us directly to get all of the details straight before sending in your order.

Sending In Guns for Upgrade or Service - You can send your gun directly to us for upgrade or service and we can ship it directly back to you. Insure it for replacement cost. Handguns require Next Day Air Shipping. Deactivated handguns such as Contender or Encore frames with no barrel or Ruger Single Action revolvers with no cylinder can be shipped by ground.

Barrels - You can order barrels directly without an FFL and you can ship them in for custom work directly without an FFL. Use UPS or the US Post Office and insure for replacement cost.

International - Sorry, we CANNOT accept international orders.
